

Lowest Performing Product Category by Gender

Beauty products purchased by male customers was the lowest performer, generating $68,685 in revenue from 141 transactions.

Performance Breakdown

The Beauty-Male combination underperformed all other product-gender segments by at least $5,620 (8.2% lower than the next lowest, Clothing-Male at $74,305).

Key Metrics for Beauty-Male:

- 141 transactions (lowest transaction count)
- $68,685 total revenue (lowest)
- 353 units sold
- $487.13 average transaction value (interestingly, the highest among all segments)

Comparison Across All Segments

Product Category Performance by Gender
Product Category	Gender	Transactions	Total Revenue	Quantity	Avg Transaction
Beauty	Male	141	$68,685	353	$487.13
Clothing	Male	177	$74,305	453	$419.80
Beauty	Female	166	$74,830	418	$450.78
Electronics	Female	170	$76,735	439	$451.38
Electronics	Male	172	$80,170	410	$466.10
Clothing	Female	174	$81,275	441	$467.10

Highest performer: Clothing-Female generated $81,275 (18.3% more than Beauty-Male), with 174 transactions and an average transaction value of $467.10.

Notable insight: Despite having the lowest revenue, Beauty-Male has the highest average transaction value ($487.13), suggesting fewer but higher-value purchases. The low performance is driven by transaction volume (141) rather than transaction size.